EDITORIAL

Perhaps it's the fault of the Manic Street Preachers and Radiohead, but whenever rock music takes itself too seriously, pop responds by becoming more trivial and disposable than ever. Psychodelia bred bubblegum in the late Sixties, prog-rock bred teenybop in the early Seventies, and has the new brand of rock miserableness brought us the likes of Steps and Britney Spears. Where did rock go wrong?

When rock'n'roll began it was fun; Merseybeat was fun: punk was fun; even Britpop was fun. So why does rock music now have to be a soundtrack to a suicide? If you want to sell music by the bucketload, then it has to be melodic. Britain's supremacy of the recorded music markets in the Sixties and early Eighties came about because it was user-friendly and portable. These days, we are losing out not only to the Americans but to the Continental disco manipulators too. Rock is being squeezed into the sidelines with only one act a year making the big time: in 1999 it was Stereophonics, in 2000 it was Travis.

One aspect of pop's resurgence as the market leader has been the rediscovery of the staff songwriter. Before the Beatles, every singer had his or her songs crafted by a music business backroom boy, often classically trained or at least with a broad working knowledge of melody and harmony. Often songwriters were producers. The States had the likes of Goffin and King; Bacharach and David; Leiber and Stoller; Pomus and Shuman; Holland, Dozier and Holland. They could all have been firms of accountants or solicitors. We had Les Vandyke, Tony Hatch and Jackie Trent. Lionel Bart and eventually Rogers Cook and Greenaway, Tony Macauley and others who came into the business because of rather than before the Fab Four. The genre persisted into the Seventies before punk blew away Chapman and Chinn and Phil Wainman.

The turning point, I suppose, was the appearance of Stock, Aitken and Waterman in the charts during 1989, when their record company PWL established a roster of star such as Kylie Minogue, Jason Donovan and Rick Astley. Once a singer doesn't have to be a musician, he or she doesn't have to be able to write music either, and the whole hit factory mentality was reborn. Pete Waterman was on the telly recently expounding his philosophy of songwriter: basically there are only three themes – boy wants girl, boy loses girls and boy and girl are getting on great. Doesn't explain why Imagine was Song of the Century, why only Bohemian Rhapsody has sold a million on two occasions, or why Pete Waterman wrote Stepping Out, FLM or Road Block, but I'll let that pass.

You can escape the hit factory treadmill has Robbie Williams has proved. In an age when pop predominates, practically any kind of music might be the Next Big Thing and almost anything can get in the charts. Had I said two years ago that it was possible for a Country artist to be fashionable, the irate and sarcastic letters I would have received would have given my postman a hernia. And in 1999 Shania Twain came along. It helps to be married to a rock producer like Mutt Lange, of course.

Date of Entry refers to the date when a record entered the charts for the first time, even when climbing from a position outside the scope of this work. For records entering before the start of the chart year, Date of Entry refers to the last time the record entered or re-entered the Top 200.

A record's chart run is not broken, even when absent for more than four weeks. A separate run is only established when a record is re-issued with a different catalogue number and/or on a different label. Exceptions from this rule are made for albums and some singles. An asterisk (*) denotes an uninterrupted chart-run at the start and/or the end of the chart year.

Scope of the present work:

- UK Singles Top 200: 16.01.1999–8.01.2000
- UK Artist Albums Top 200: 16.01.1999–8.01.2000
- UK Budget Albums Top 10: 16.01.1999–8.01.2000

The first chart of the year 1999 is dated 16.01.1999 (compiled from sales data for 3.01.1999–9.01.1999 and published on 10.01.1999). The chart dated 9.01.1999 is based by over 60% on sales from 1998. The 1999 chart year has 52 weeks.

A diamond (◇) denotes a budget album, a club (♣) denotes a compilation album.

For some entries I list a sales figure. This data refers to the total number of units sold by record companies to retailers (trade deliveries)—not actual 'over the counter' sales to customers (retail sales). These trade delivery figures are certified (only on request of the record company) by the BPI – BRITISH PHONOGRAPHIC INDUSTRY LTD. to its members as follows:

	for singles:	for albums:
★ Platinum	600,000 units	300,000 units
● Gold	400,000 units	100,000 units
○ Silver	200,000 units	60,000 units

I have included all certifications awarded until the end of January 2000. Please note that my data is only complete for entries that either have (re)entered the Top 75 or were certified since 1994.
