EDITORIAL

What do The Beatles, Led Zeppelin, Rod Stewart, Radiohead, Coldplay, and Leona Lewis have in common? They are the only British artists this century to have had a number one album in the States. It's little more than a cherry on top of the cake for an American act to have a number one in Britain, but for a British act having an American number one is like discovering the cake has another, bigger tier below. It has become so important to "crack the States" that some acts have destroyed their British careers trying to do it. Slade are the band that comes to mind.

Famously The Beatles were the first to split the American market wide open. I Want To Hold Your Hand was their first no.1 single on 1 February 1964, and Meet The Beatles their first no.1 album two weeks later. They weren't the first British act to score an American no.1 though: that record goes to Vera Lynn who was eight weeks at no.1 with Auf Wiederseh'n Sweetheart from 12 July 1952 (the BILLBOARD singles chart goes back to 27 July 1940).

But The Beatles paved the way for others to follow, and in 1965 Brit acts spent more weeks at no.1 (28) in the singles chart than Americans. It wasn't to last, and by 1968 only The Beatles were topping the charts. But British popular music had made its mark and there was at least one Brit act at no.1 every year from 1964 to 1995.

Then Britpop and Girl Power happened, and although Oasis never had a US no.1 (single or album), The Spice Girls and The Prodigy did. But by 1998 the two countries were going their separate ways again. When Elton John's Candle In The Wind 1997 dropped from the no.1 position on 17 January 1998, it would be nearly a decade before a Brit had a no.1 single. And that no.1 was Leona Lewis's Bleeding Love on 5 April 2008.

The truth is that the 1964 British invasion petered out quickly. If you plot the number of British acts against the year each had its first US no.1 single or album, then four achieved the feat in 1964 (The Beatles, Peter & Gordon, The Animals, and Manfred Mann), six in 1965 (Petula Clark, Freddie & The Dreamers, Wayne Fontana & The Mindbenders, Herman's Hermits, The Rolling Stones, and The Dave Clark Five), but by 1967 the invasion was over; only Lulu added to the list. Things picked up in the mid-Seventies: in 1972 five British acts had their first US no.1 (Gilbert O'Sullivan, Jethro Tull, Elton John, Cat Stevens, and The Moody Blues).

But the peak British invasion happened in the mid-Eighties when four new UK or Irish acts topped the charts every year from 1983 to 1988, with eight achieving the feat in 1986 (Robert Palmer, The Pet Shop Boys, Simply Red, Genesis, Peter Gabriel, Steve Winwood, Bananarama, and Sade). Since 1990 though, no more than one British act has had its first US no.1 in a year, and there have been nine years when no new British act has appeared at no.1. 1994 was the first year when no new British act topped either the American singles or album chart since 1964. The promise of BritPop never progressed beyond 1997, and British popular music has failed to compete with American Hip-Hop ever since.

The list of acts who have failed to achieve either a US no.1 single or album is staggering: The Who, The Kinks, T. Rex, Slade, Roxy Music, The Sex Pistols, The Clash, the Jam, Spandau Ballet, The Smiths, The Stone Roses, Oasis, Blur, and Pulp. The list of acts that have is embarrassing: Herman's Hermits, The Bay City Rollers, and Right Said Fred. Clearly the Americans like their music melodic and serious. So the likes of Arctic Monkeys and Kaiser Chiefs had either to drop the irony or look elsewhere to have big hits.

PREVIOUS BOOKLETS

Readers might like to know that this booklet is the latest in a series that began in 1983. From 1983 to 1995, the annual CHARTWATCH summary booklet was compiled by David Longbottom from the charts published in RECORD MIRROR and MUSIC WEEK. Up until early 1991, this means a Top 100 singles and album chart. The demise of RECORD MIRROR in 1991 meant that both charts were reduced to a Top 75. In 1996, Tobias Zywietz took over compilation of the booklet, and used the charts in HIT MUSIC which extended the MUSIC WEEK charts to a Top 200. All previous booklets, incl. the new version for 1995, are available from:

www.chartwatch.co.uk or: Chartwatch, 34 Brybank Road, Hanchett Village, Haverhill, Suffolk, CB9 7WD, UK

The booklets for 1985 to 1994 cost £2.00 each, from 1995 onwards they cost £2.50 each. Similar summaries have been produced for the years 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, and 1967, but including only singles charts; these are £1.20 each. A summary booklet for the 1983 singles chart, but without chart runs, is available for £1.40, and a similar booklet for 1984, but including both singles and albums charts, costs £1.50. Please use PayPal or send a cheque (in Pound Sterling) made payable to "Chartwatch" and crossed "a/c payee".
